

Communication Services

The crucial link between your software and employees

Human Change Management

You are facing a change? We support you in the planning of corporate change, analyze the target groups, minimize risks and take advantage of self-developed, communication-specific actions in order to successfully carry out your human change management project.

Learning Concepts and E-Learning

How does learning look like in a globalized world's digital age? We assist you in choosing suitable learning formats for your company and prepare and process the learning contents according to the chosen media. Together with you we develop strategies which enable a successful learning of your employees.

Social Business Collaboration

Collaboration is a key factor for a company's success. Social business collaboration tools enable an open, agile culture and ensure a more efficient communication. Employees can network and communicate project-orientated. We accompany you starting with the first steps to the implementation of the system.

Rollout- and Project Communication

Whether accompaniment of rollout projects, logo creation, development of a marketing campaign, conception of a rollout plan, or target-specific measures – we offer you all modules from the fields of rollout and project communication. From conception to implementation.

Intercultural Communication

Do you have projects in which different culture groups are involved? Together with you we develop culture-specific communication contents, clear up misunderstandings and create a common understanding.

Event Management

Specifically planned and conceptualized events increase the attention for a topic, create a common consensus and increase the motivation. Put your events into good hands. We support you in preparing, planning, organizing and executing the event.

Project Management and Organization

Planning, coordination, organization as well as management of measures and project members – we support you in a smooth operation of your IT and communication projects.

We help you to make projects, especially in IT, a success by concentrating on your company's key asset: your employees.

- Efficient handling of changes
- More acceptance of employees for new innovations
- Transparency within the company
- Motivation of employees
- Time and cost saving

Contact

You are interested in Communication Services?

Contact us:

fme AG

Communication Services

T +49 531 23854207

CommunicationServices@fme.de